Herter, Gromyko Hold Talks Unexpectedly

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter met unexpectedly today at Gromyko's request to discuss the final phase of the Big Four conference on Berlin.

There was immediate speculation among Western diplomats that Gromyko might have some new proposal either on breaking the East-West deadlock over Berlin, or on how to wind up the conference.

Earlier Herter met with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and reports that the Western powers were split over the problem of a summit conference following the foreign ministers' meeting.

Britain was reported to have lined up with France today to shift position and agree to an early East-West summit conference despite imminent failure of the Big Four for eign ministers' meeting.

Such an agreement would require a major reversal of U.S.-French policy. The British feel a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may be the only way to ease world tensions. The French and Americans feel the Soviets should pay the price of a summit meeting by first calling off their threat to West Berlin.

The collapse of the foreign ministers' negotiations is not yet complete, but one more session scheduled for Wednesday may make the breakdown final.

Discomfort Index Now Humidity Index

WASHINGTON (AP)—They've changed the name of the controversial discomfort index to the temperature-humidity index.

By next summer, however, it may be called an air conditioning value, a human reaction scale, a cooler-rate, a thermidity, or perhaps, nothing at all.

The Weather Bureau started the discomfort index this season as an experiment. The idea was to give people a single measure of both the heat and the humidity.

But tourist-conscious businessmen complained that the index was reminding prospective visitors that the weather might not be comfortable all the time. Some newspapers added editorial criticism of the Weather Bureau.

The bureau announced Monday it would change the name to get away from the idea of discomfort. It adopted the name temperature-humidity index temporarily.

Poultry Group Talks Over Problems

Problems of the poultry industry were discussed in Hope this week when representatives of Hope and Prescott met with the officers and directors of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers Association. The business leaders were guests of the poultry association at a luncheon served at the Diamond cafe.

Speaking for the poultry producers, President J. Silvey of Bodewy stressed the economic importance of this industry to Southwest Arkansas and the need for united effort on the part of the business people and poultry growers to aid and protect the industry.

He mentioned, particularly, the need for wider support for the proposed livestock and poultry diagnostic laboratory for this area and the assignment of a poultry specialist by the Extension Service to serve this and adjoining counties.

A bill which would have created a diagnostic laboratory was passed at the recent session of the legislature but was vetoed by the governor, said Mr. Silvey.

Arthur Wimmell of McCaskill, vice president of the poultry association opened the discussion by describing the seriousness of the problem facing both the broiler and commercial egg producers throughout the nation. Over production, planned and brought on by monopolistic combines to destroy small producers, was blamed by Mr. Wimmell who quoted testimony given recently before an investigating congressional committee by J. B. McMillan president of the Texas Broiler Association.

In the discussion which followed the business leaders suggested that the poultry folks work out a definite program of action and then present it to the agricultural committees of the Prescott and Hope chambers of commerce with representatives of the service clubs being invited to sit in.

Following the luncheon, the officers and board members of the poultry association met and voted to support a broiler, egg and turkey marketing act which is being considered by a sub-congressional committee in hearings in Washington this week.

The board also voted to propose a change in the by-laws which will permit affiliation by the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers Association with the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL-CIO. The proposed amendment will be submitted at the next meeting of the association which will be held July 6 at Bodewy and will be voted upon at the August meeting of the association.

Fifth Recall Vote in the State Today

CLINTON, Ark. (AP)—Proposed recall of four school board members was voted upon today at nearly a record in the fifth such election held in Arkansas under a new law.

Petitions filed to call the election said board members Clyn Emerson, Jerl Hefner and Ulysses Watson "failed to co-operate with the state Department of Education" and had "fired competent local teachers and hired outside teachers at higher salaries."

No charges were contained in separate petitions seeking to oust Elda Emerson, Election Commissioner George Wilcock said.

In previous recall elections, voters at Hoxie, Clover Bend and Bismarck decided to retain the members under fire. In the fourth election, three segregationist members were thrown off the Little Rock School Board.

Four Nominated to a State Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Four new members were named yesterday to the state Board of Psychiatric Technicians by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, to replace members whose terms expired.

The appointees are Dr. Robert G. Cannahan, Everett A. Hill and Mrs. Irla Blasingham, all of Little Rock, and Mrs. Melba Sullivan of North Little Rock.

Charles Lincoln, II, of Little Rock was appointed to the state Confederate Home Board, to replace the late E. E. Miles of Little Rock.

MIG Fighters Attack a U. S. Patrol Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—MIG jet fighters shot up a U.S. Navy patrol plane over international waters of the Sea of Japan Monday. One crewman was seriously wounded.

A Defense Department announcement today of the incident did not give the nationality of the attacking planes, and the State Department said later this had not been established.

Once it is established, a spokesman said, the United States will protest what he called the "unwarranted and vicious" attack.

The incident in which two MIG fighters were believed to have made the attack, occurred about 85 miles east of Wonsan, North Korea.

The first reports received here did not make clear whether the American plane returned the fire.

Radio reports said the jets attacked without warning, firing tracer ammunition. The Pentagon announcement said:

"Thought to be two in number, they made skidding runs and followed the P-4M to within 50 feet of the water as the patrol plane took evasive action. Skies were clear and ceiling unlimited."

"A tall, upper in the U. S. plane was seriously wounded as his gun was knocked out on the first run. He was the only casualty reported."

"The report said."

In Tokyo the U.S. Navy clamped tight secrecy on the incident except to say the wounded crewman is not in danger.

"He'll make it all right," a Navy spokesman said. Present plans are to fly him to the naval hospital in Yokosuka Wednesday.

The board voted last night to purge minutes of the May 1 meeting and to retire all personnel now employed except six teachers who refused to sign an affidavit required under Act 10 of 1958.

J. H. Cotrell and D. Frank Mackey — appointed along with Hubbard — met with Everett Tucker Jr., Ted Lamb and Russell Matson Jr., the moderate board members retained in the May 25 election and who walked out of the "purge" meeting.

Cotrell suggested that the board try to confer with Faubus about reappointing the four public high schools, which the governor closed last fall to block integration.

"It might not accomplish a thing in the world but it might make the effort," Cotrell said.

Mackey joined in this motion saying, "We should start tonight trying to get the schools open this fall."

Tucker, Lamb and Matson said they preferred to await federal court action on the school closing law, Act 4 of 1958. A federal court has under advisement a suit against the act.

The board finally agreed to wait until the June 25 board meeting to decide whether to request a meeting with Faubus.

Action on contracts of the six teachers who refused to sign affidavits was postponed until June 25. A motion was passed that if they hadn't signed by then they could not be rehired. The act requires teachers in state-supported institutions to give a sworn listing of organizations to which they have belonged or contributed in the past five years.

The act has been declared constitutional by a three-judge federal court at Little Rock but attorneys for Negro plaintiffs in a suit challenging it have announced they will appeal the decision to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The board also voted to rehire Terrell E. Powell as upintendent of schools. McKinley Easter and Rowland had ousted him and voted to hire in his place Tom Alford, principal of Jacksonville High School and father of Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.).

Would Call Both Sides in Steel Talks

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sen Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) today called on President Eisenhower to summon both sides in the steel dispute to a White House conference to break the bargaining stalemate.

Symington made the suggestion in talking with newsmen after an address to the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department's collective bargaining conference.

"I believe the President should call Dave McDonald of the (Steel workers) union and Roger Bough (U.S. Steel Corp. chairman) to the White House right now to try to head off a strike," Symington said.

Board Expunges Teacher Purge; Member Resigns

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Henry G. Hubbard, who last night quit the Little Rock School Board to which he was appointed only last week, conferred today with the 20-year-old prison record.

He said that he had planned to resign even before he learned that an unpunished conviction made him ineligible to serve on the board. He said his wife had insisted he quit because of a hearing condition from which he suffers.

Shortly after Hubbard resigned, the remaining board members met last night and wiped the board's records clean of a controversial teacher purge. The board talked about the possibility of a meeting with Gov. Orval E. Faubus in an effort to get the city's closed public high schools reopened.

Hubbard was one of three members appointed by the Pulaski County Board of Education to replace three segregationist members who attempted to fire 340 teachers and employees at a May 25 meeting. The three — Ed J. Mackinley, Ben D. Rowland and Howard W. Easter — were recalled by voters May 25 after a heated campaign by civic groups stirred by the action.

The board voted last night to purge minutes of the May 1 meeting and to retire all personnel now employed except six teachers who refused to sign an affidavit required under Act 10 of 1958.

J. H. Cotrell and D. Frank Mackey — appointed along with Hubbard — met with Everett Tucker Jr., Ted Lamb and Russell Matson Jr., the moderate board members retained in the May 25 election and who walked out of the "purge" meeting.

The customer would return the list with a notation of how much he wanted paid on each account. State Receives 1600 Tons of Commodities

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A total of 264,840 persons received about 1,600 tons of surplus commodities in Arkansas in May, state Welfare Commission Carl Adams said yesterday.

Adams said 3,026,568 pounds of surplus foods, with a retail value of about $699,410, went to needy persons state institutions, schools and summer camps.

The number of persons receiving aid is expected to drop to about 200,000 by the end of June, Adams said. Nine counties will not participate in the program this month because of increased farm employment.

The surplus commodities program is to be discussed at a federal area conference June 23-25 at Hot Springs. New federal regulations will be discussed and Adams said Gov. Orval Faubus will speak at a dinner in conjunction with the conference.

A breakdown showed 63 institutions with 9,930 persons received 101,804 pounds of food valued at $26,170, 110 schools with 26,212 students got 58,336 pounds with a value of $29,552 and 13 camps with 2,800 campers received 16,713 pounds valued at $5,110.

Adams said butter is being removed from the food list for welfare persons in July, but butter would continue to be given to schools and institutions.

Baxter, Benton, Crittenden, Dallas, Drew and Hempstead Counties did not participate in the May program and Adams said Chicot, Lonoke and Newton counties will join the non-participants in June.

Four Questioned in Man's Death

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Four men and a woman were held today for questioning in connection with the death of a man whose body was found in an abandoned well last week.

Police said three of the men are brothers and the woman claims to be their cousin. The fourth man is not related to the others. They were arrested in Blytheville and transferred to Hot Springs last night.

No charges have been filed, but all are being questioned. The body has been tentatively identified as that of Harris G. Sharpe, 65, a retired World War I pensioner. Police said the brothers and the woman had been living across the street from the rooming house where Sharpe lived.

Sharpe was last seen the night of May 31, when neighbors said he was involved in an argument with unidentified persons. Coroner Dr. D. C. Lee said there was no question but that Sharpe had been murdered and his body thrown in the well.

Working Wife Asks
Change in Dollars

Dear Dorothy Dix:

How much financial privacy should a working wife have? I have been married ten years and have worked all that time. I used to pay all miscellaneous bills by cash. When income-tax time came around, the old man would call would be "You made a lot of money last year. What did you do with it?" I changed the system and deposited money in our checking account, drawing checks for monthly expenditures. Now all statements and canceled checks are closely inspected and I am asked what each one represents. I resent having to account for every cent I earn. My husband makes a nightly two-hour social call on the neighborhood tavern but, of course, that doesn't cost anything.—Frit

Dear Frit: Every working wife—in fact, every wife—should have a certain amount of money to use as she wishes without having to make an accounting. It's necessary for domestic economy to have husband and wife come from and where the money comes from and where it goes, but somewhere in between should be a little leeway for each. Your husband spends his at the tavern, you should have equal privileges. Revise the system again; keep some money for yourself and let the household accounts be open for inspection. If necessary, suggest that he draw these checks so he'll know where the money goes. Some husbands simply do not realize how much it costs to run a home.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I'm engaged to a wonderful guy—at least, he's wonderful in the winter but in summer he becomes engaged to baseball. He coaches a Little League team and is always having a game or practice. When he does come to see me, he's so tired he can't keep his eyes open, and we fight. Mother thinks I should break the engagement but father thinks I'd be a fool to pass him up.—Adela

Dear Adela: I'm with Pop. Any man who devotes so much time and energy to young boys has the stuff of which good fathers are made. Get active in similar work and you won't have time to fight.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My son is engaged to a girl who is running around with other boys. She doesn't know I'm aware of this. Should I tell my son?—S.S.

Dear S.S.: If you do tell, you'll probably get no thanks. This is a holly disputed question and I wonder what other readers think of it. Should mom tell or not?

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX.

Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper.

Spa Hospital Bill Goes to the Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to give the big Army-Navy Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., to Arkansas for use as a regional vocational rehabilitation center was passed by the House today.

The bill, by Rep. W. E. Norrell (D-Ark.), now goes to the Senate where a companion measure by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) is pending.

Involved are about 30 buildings and about 22 acres with an estimated value of around 20 million dollars.

The transfer would terminate a dispute of several years between the Army and Arkansas' Congressional delegation over the Army's efforts to close the hospital.

The Army has sought to close the hospital, contending it isn't needed. The Arkansas delegation took an opposite view and for several years persuaded Congress to order continued operation of the hospital.

Arkansas is to take title to the big hospital and with federal financial assistance, get the center started. The plan contemplates federal aid for several years. Sponsors hope that eventually the center will be on a paying basis save for rehabilitation aid provided under a regular national rehabilitation program.

The plan also contemplates a one million dollar appropriation this year to the Health, Education and Welfare Department to help Arkansas get the center under way.

In anticipation of the transfer

Nine Subpoenaed in School Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Nine persons have been subpoenaed to testify for the plaintiffs in the Dollarway School desegregation suit, which is to be heard here Wednesday.

At least some of the nine apparently will be questioned in connection with a legal attack on the Arkansas pupil placement law.

The House Appropriations committee eliminated from the defense appropriations bill an item of about $1,250,000 which would have been used by the Army to operate the hospital another year.

Cleveland Is Suddenly Back in Loop Race

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's revived Indians, once more thumping home runs, suddenly are back in the American League lead after winning six straight in a scramble to stay ahead of the fast-closing Detroit Tigers.

The Indians, counting all their runs on three homers, shot back on top with a 5-1 victory at Boston Monday night for a 602 percentage point edge over Chicago's title White Sox. The Tigers closed within 1 1/2 games of the lead by handing Tony Oliva his first defeat of the season in a 4-1 victory at Baltimore — their 18th in a 23-game rocket ride from the cellar.

Washington ripped Kansas City 8-5, with Harmon Killebrew hammering his 22nd home run for the Senators, in the only other game. In the National League, Los Angeles trimmed Milwaukee's first place lead to one game, beating the Braves 4-0.

In baseball play here last night the first National Bank of Hope slammed the Ozark Lumber Co. boys of Prescott 13 to 0 in a regular league game.

In the second contest the visiting Sparkman team formed the Hope Big League team into an extra inning before the locals edged them out 11 to 10.

Mercy Flight Is Made Successfully

DENVER (AP)—As a pilot and good neighbor, Tom Knight of Riverfront, Wyo., and his single-engine lightplane have flown about 500 mercy errands in the past 18 years.

He made another Monday, from Riverton to Denver, of the pilot's seat was a pale woman whose doctor ordered her rushed here for exploratory surgery. The woman is Knight's wife, Wilfred.

place lead to one game, beating the Braves 4-0.

The Indians backed Gary Bell's three-hit pitching with solo homers by Jim Baxes and Woody Held and a clinching three-run shot by Minnie Minoso, who broke a 1-1 tie by tagging an 0-2 pitch in the fourth inning.

The Indians, who hit only five home runs while losing nine of 10 games in a skid from the top, now have belted 17 homers in the AL record — one shy of the 1936 Yankees. It all began last Wednesday, when Rocky Colavito triggered the blasting with his record-tying four in one game at Baltimore.

Since then, Cleveland has missed hitting a home run in only one game. Colavito is the individual leader in the streak with six. Minoso is next with four, three in three games in two days and good for a dozen runs.

The homers made it a breeze for Bell, who struck out nine but walked six while claiming a 6-5 record.

The Tigers, who have won six of their last seven, made it three in a row after getting only two infield hits for five innings off Wilhelm (9-1), who had won 10 straight since last September 16. Then they rapped the knuckleballing right-hander for four hits and three runs in the sixth, ending his string of scoreless innings at 19.

Singles by Eddie Yost, Al Kaline and Larry Osborne, plus a double by Harvey Kuenn, Charlie Maxwell's sacrifice fly and a platted ball did it. Then Kuenn, who was 3 for 5 and regained the lead from Kaline (3.81 to 3.57), put it away with a two-run homer in the seventh—the first off Wilhelm in 115 innings stretching back to a home run by Kaline last September 12. Ray Narleski won his third in a row for the Tigers, although giving up 11 hits.

The Senators, who had lost five in a row while slumping into the cellar, got rid of loser Bud Daley (5-5) in three innings, running up a 6-0 bulge on homers by Killebrew and Jim Lemon, who has smacked two days. John Romonosky (4-0) made his first start for Washington and had a six-hit shutout until the ninth. Kent Hadley's one-on-one set off a five-run A's rally that brought on Chuck Stobbs in relief.

Braves Blanked by Dodgers But Hold Slim Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just a month ago Milwaukee was riding a hot streak to a 4 game bulge in the National League. Now the Braves have a limp lead of one game with their sluggers shackled by shutouts.

The Braves were blanked only eight times all last year as they put away a second straight opponent. Now, with little more than a third of the season gone, they've been whitewashed six times — more than any other NL club except Philadelphia, and even the last place Phillies have suffered no more.

The champs were handed two consecutive shutouts for the first time in four years Monday night at Los Angeles when the Dodgers made off with a 4-0 victory behind the four-hit pitching of Don Drysdale, who struck out 12.

It sliced Milwaukee's lead over second place San Francisco to .010 percentage points in the only NL game scheduled.

In the American League, Cleveland made it six in a row and regained first place with a 5-1 victory at Boston for a 1002 percentage-point edge over Chicago's idle White Sox. Detroit finally ended Hoyt Wilhelm's unbeaten string at 10, beating Baltimore 6-4. Washington defeated Kansas City 8-5 in the only other game scheduled.

The Braves now have lost 15 games while winning only 13 since taking that 4 1/2-game lead five months. They've been shut out five times in the slump. They've also dropped five of their last seven and eight of 12.

Bob Buhl (6-4), who had won four in a row, battled Drysdale (6-5) in a scoreless duel until the seventh inning. Then the Dodgers who had been checked on five hits, broke loose for all four runs, three of them unearned.

A walk and an interference ruling against catcher Del Crandall as he chased Drysdale's ball set it up. Junior Gilliam doubled the first run home and Wally Moon collected the other three with his third homer.

Second Half of Southern Is Underway

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dan Dobbek, on a June home-run spree, clouted his 10th homer of the year off Ray Riplemeier last night to give Chattanooga an 11th-inning win over Atlanta in Southern Assn. play.

Dobbek's circuit clout, his fifth since June 4, broke a tie for a 2-2 Lookout victory.

Memphis and New Orleans share the league lead after the first day of the second half of the season. Memphis whipped Mobile 5-1 behind the steady pitching of lefty Bill Prout, and New Orleans outlasted Shreveport 7-6. Birmingham, the first-half winner, and runner-up Nashville took the night off. They will open the second half tonight at Sulphur, Del.

Man Fined for Too Many Fish

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A man who game wardens said is a Game and Fish Commission here today when he did not appear in court for allegedly exceeding the limit on white bass.

Game wardens Harold Blak and Bob Cummings identified the man as Gus Albright, of Little Rock, of the Commission's publicity department. They said he had 20 white bass, five over the limit, while participating in a fishing derby at Lake Hamilton Friday.

Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis Jr. ordered the bond forfeited. Albright was not available for comment.

Journey To Love

By VIRGINIA NIELSON

(c) 1959 by Virginia Nielson Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

Kathie drew a deep breath and began at the beginning. Lellani was the only one who did not know that her cabin had been searched aboard ship. She went from that to the taxi that had rimmed hers on the first morning in Honolulu. Sam knew about that already, but Alex seemed to freeze as she spoke.

"Apparently someone wants my worthless deed," Kathie finished, "and wants it desperately."

"But why would anyone want it?" Alex asked.

"I don't know, but I think Ben did. I think that's why she got so excited when I told her what I have just told you and I think that's why she hurried back to Honolulu without telling us she was going."

"Why did you confide in Ben?" Sam asked shrewdly.

"She was Uncle Job's niece, living here where he grew up. And Uncle Job had always been so mysteriously silent about his past."

"And could she tell you anything you didn't know?"

"Yes," Kathie said reluctantly. "She told me Uncle Job left the islands under suspicion of murder."

Alex was frowning deeply. "But that was how long ago, Kathie?"

"About 40 years."

"Ben couldn't have been more than a baby 40 years ago."

"She was two years old," Lellani said, and grief caught in her voice.

"Who was the man Job Hammer was supposed to have murdered?" Alex asked.

Lellani drew her brows together in concentration. "I've heard his name, I know. There was something about a poker game, I remember that much."

Alex shrugged. "It's easily found. There will be stories in the newspaper files."

With a blunt impatience, Kathie cried, "But who knows I have the deed—besides all of us here? Wait. There is one other person. Sam's grandfather?"

"Sam's grandfather is one of the most respected men in Honolulu, Kathie," Alex said reprovingly.

"I'm sorry," Kathie said, in confusion. "I didn't mean that the way it sounded."

"It seems to me we're getting all heated up about a lot of nothing," Sam said impatiently. "All this because Kathie thinks that Ben knew something. Kathie is upset, as we all are, she's probably just imagining things."

"I suppose I imagined the taxi that rammed mine?" Kathie cried, indignant.

"Please, Kathie," Alex said quietly. "Let's wait until we have a few more facts before we make any more guesses, shall we?"

She flushed, remembering how she had accused him of searching her stateroom and reading he was probably taking this opportunity to reproach her for that.

he night was as lovely as though no thought or hint of tragedy had ever crossed the garden.

She heard a light footstep behind her and turned nervously. It was Sam.

"This is a terrible thing, Kathie," he said. "I know it hit you hard."

"Terribly," Kathie admitted.

He sounded relieved. "And what you hinted just now about Grandfather—you really didn't mean it, did you? Just because he offered to buy your deed?"

"Oh, Sam, I didn't mean it! I didn't think how it sounded."

"I hope not," he said, "because that would mean you didn't think much of me, either."

"Sam, I think you're grand. You've been so nice to me, and I've brought you trouble and sorrow—" Her voice broke.

Sam took her in his arms. "Kathie, I want you to marry me, darling. I want you to promise me now that you will."

She tried to pull away, but his arms tightened.

"Please, Sam! You're hurting me!"

He relaxed his hold instantly. "I wouldn't hurt you for anything in the world, Kathie. You know that. But don't say no to me. Don't say anything just now. You can give me your answer tomorrow."

"I wish I could say yes, Sam, but—" If only she didn't love Alex so!

"You're going to say yes," Sam said, silencing her with a hand over her mouth. "I'm not going to listen to any other answer."

He took his hand away then, and bent his head and kissed her. It was a brief, masterful kiss.

"Until tomorrow," he said softly, and let her go.

It was strange, she thought as she walked across the grass toward the house, that all she had felt of his kiss was a brief warm pressure of lips and the faint scratch of his mustache. How different it had been when Alex kissed her!

Kathie was awake early—it was barely daylight—and as soon as the fog of sleep had been rolled back, her unhappy thoughts crowded in.

As she entered the living room, she stopped in surprise. Alex, fully dressed and wide-awake, was standing before the long windows, smoking.

He heard her and turned, and warmth came to his eyes as they traveled over her slender blue-clad figure and the little girl braids falling over her shoulders.

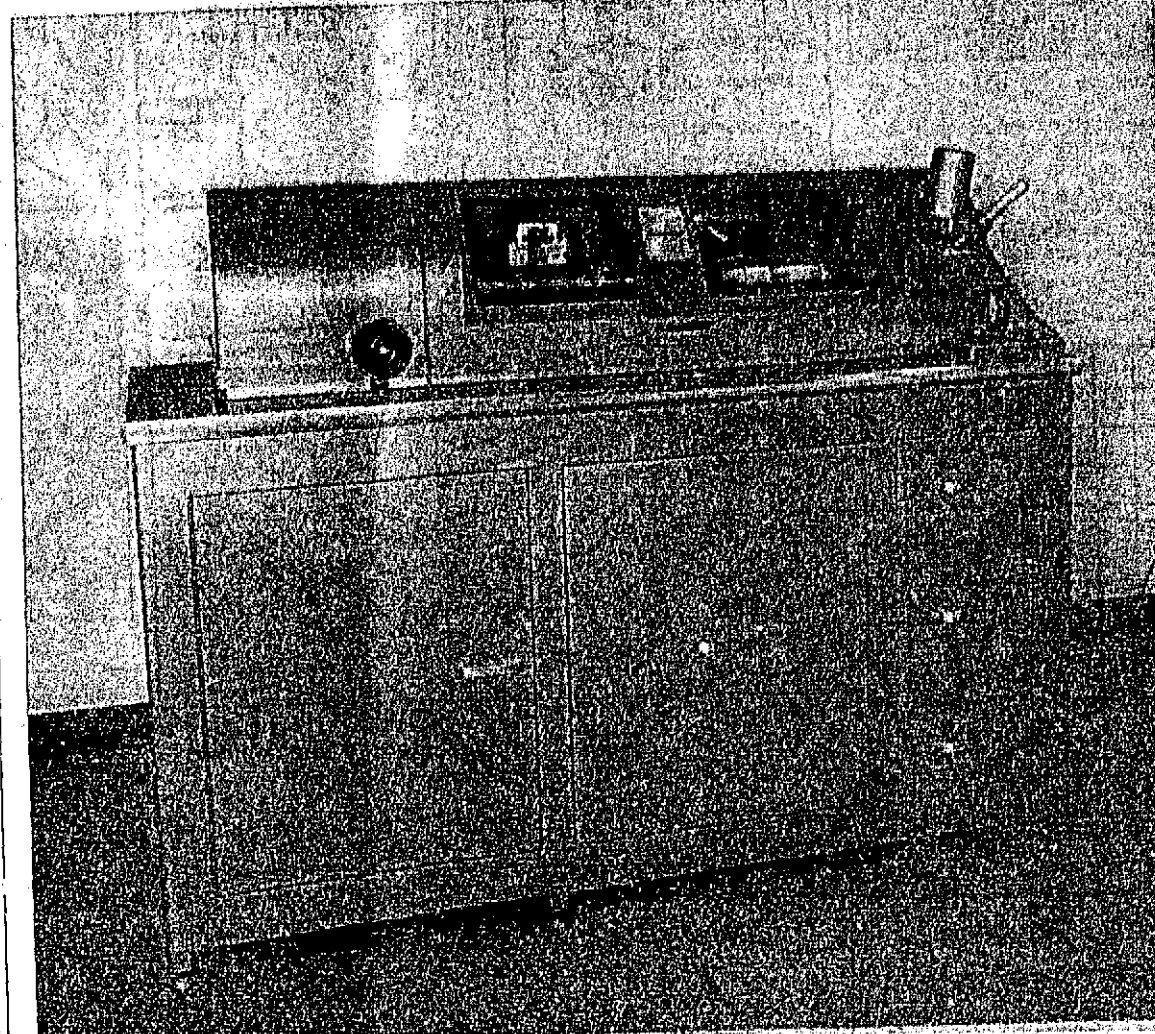

"You look sweet enough to eat," Kathie, he said.

The phone rang.

He stopped and turned quickly toward the instrument, picking it up before it could ring again. He had evidently been expecting the call, for he spoke only in monosyllables.

Accuses Steel Industry of Bogus Offers

By NORMAN WALKER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, said today the steel industry has made only "bogus offers" in current negotiations.

He said they would only undermine the present agreement. McDonald, in remarks prepared for a union conference on collective bargaining, said if a strike comes when present steel contracts expire June 30, it will be the industry's fault.

With only two weeks remaining before a possible July 1 industry-wide walkout, McDonald said the bargaining so far has gotten nowhere.

Walker Reuther earlier charged American industry with playing the hands of Russia by grabbing off huge profits and denying a fair share to workers.

The head of the United Auto workers Union, said many employers are going through the motions of collective bargaining—"they comply with the letter of the law but without the spirit of the law."

Reuther said current steel negotiations are an example of what he had in mind.

Reuther keynoted a two-day conference on collective bargaining held by the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department, 17th Avenue, 67 union organizations which claim nearly seven million members.

"The big business groups are waging a class struggle in America just as Karl Marx predicted," Reuther told a cheering audience.

"They are working overtime to prove Marx was right, that economic pressure groups would eventually kill each other off in America."

Reuther said business must learn to understand that the United States cannot have progress unless all its various segments go forward together.

Earlier the director of the UID said President Eisenhower is siding with business in an effort to curb labor union negotiating power.

Lady Godiva's famous ride in the 11th Century was to persuade her husband, the Earl of Mercia, to rescind a tax he had imposed on the people under his rule. He rescinded the tax.

Arrest Suspicious Mean Near Bank

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock police arrested three suspicious men for questioning today as they sat in a car parked in front of a suburban bank about opening time.

Police also impounded two cars, the one the men were sitting in and another old model auto parked about half a block from the Pulaski Heights Bank. Officers said they found a nine-shot German-made revolver in the car in which the men were sitting after the bank officers called police after learning the men were parked in front of the bank. The men reportedly had been loitering near the bank about opening time for several days. One of the men was reported to have an account at the bank.

Police held the three men for questioning. Authorities said the second car had a license plate tied with string over the regular license plate.

WHONG CHUTE
ATIKOKAN, Ont. (P)—Customs officers complained they weren't getting stamps from a new stamp machine in the post office. Officials found the stamp slot stopped up by a letter which someone thought he was mailing.
